methodical development ( with slide comments)
by Logunova V.V. ( a professor of English )

Cambridge is a university city and the county town of Cambridgeshire, England, on the River Carn approximately 55 miles (89 km) north of London .

The county town of Cambridgeshire

a university city

Settlements have existed around the Cambridge area since prehistoric times

The city is located in an area of level and relatively low-lying terrain varying between 6 and 24 metres (20 and 79 ft) above sea level.

The city has an oceanic climate highly influenced by the Gulf Stream.

The rapid growth in the 20th century, Cambridge has a congested road network

Cambridge's two universities the collegiate University of Cambridge and the local campus of Anglia Ruskin University

Both state and independent schools serve Cambridge pupils from nursery to secondary school age

Cambridge played a unique role in the invention of modern football: the game's first set of rules were drawn up by members of the University in 1848. The Cambridge Rules were first played on Parker's Piece

Rugby

The city is represented in both codes of Rugby football. Cambridge Lions represent the city in rugby league, and are members of East Rugby League.

Cambridge's main traditional theatre is the Arts Theatre, a venue with 666 seats in the town centre. The theatre often has touring shows, as well as those by local companies.

Within the city there are several notable museums, some run by the University of Cambridge Museums consortium and others independent of it.

Classical music

Started in 1991, the annual Cambridge Music Festival takes place each November. The Cambridge Summer Music Festival takes place in July
